

Smoke detectors

Friday, 07 January 2011

I read a horrible story the other day in the newspaper - a cellphone charger had been left plugged in and caused a fire in the home.Â Every home should have smoke detectors.Â The best place to fit them is in or near a ceiling close to the sleeping areas, away from corners, windows and doors.Â At the top of a stairwell is also a good location.Â Have your smoke detectors professionally fitted and tested regularly!Â Change the battery regularly!
