

The Building Centre now has extra space for exhibitors

Wednesday, 13 March 2013

Two years ago, the Building Centre moved from the leafy suburbs of Rondebosch, to the new building hub in Northgate Estate in Brooklyn.

Within a year, we reached full capacity and had a waiting list with new clients vying for an opportunity for a position in our Centre.

To our good fortune an opportunity arose when the building directly behind us became available. We now have 950 square metres available to anyone wishing to exhibit with us.
